Stops Overlapping

Of Some of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches

The committee appointed by the Alberta synod of the Presbyterian Church and the conference of the Methodist Church on authority of the General Assembly and General Conference of these respective churches, met at Macleod last week to arrange the work on mission field so as to remove and avoid overlapping.

After a few preliminaries the committee got down to a working basis and much good work was accomplished. The two bodies worked on the basis of making even exchanges. The first move was the Presbyterians agreeing to vacate Blackie and the Methodist pulling out of Vulcan.

Then the Presbyterians agreed to leave Gladys to the Methodists in return for Pine Canyon.

The Presbyterians agreed to vacate Champion and Newlands, while the Methodists leave Pearce, Monarch and the Quarries to the other body.

A most important agreement was that negotiated by which the Methodists leave Granum to the Presbyterians, while the latter leave Carmanoy, Barons, Coulter, Burnshaw to the Methodists.

At the evening session of the committee the following matters were settled:

The Methodists were permitted to re-open the appointment at Lakeside, east of High River. They also take the Italian work in the Pass from Crow's Nest east, and the Presbyterians take the French work in the same territory. Rev. Bryan Nanton and Rev. Berry of High River will canvass denominations of both churches at Cayley and Stavelly with a view to a settlement of problems of co-operation on both fields.

Methodists will take Lundbreck and Presbyterians Burns. The country along the Aldersyde branch between Champion and Brant, and the last of the line was divided as follows:

Methodists take Blind Creek, Arrow Wood, Union Jack, Perrywater, Queenstown, Liberty, Buffalo Hill, Mayview and Washington.

Presbyterians take Auburn, Alston, Kirkaldy, Thigh Hill, Reid Hill, McCracken's Mines and Brunette.

Presbyterians take Meadow Creek and surrounding country west of Claresholm.

Methodists take territory east of Claresholm.

Presbyterians retire from Fishburn.

Methodists keep Kipp and Lethbridge collieries.

Presbyterians take No. 3, No. 6 and Royal collieries, north of Lethbridge.

Methodists were permitted to open work at Warner when deemed advisable. Presbyterians were given the same privilege east of Milk River.

The Presbyterians were given Maple Leaf and Aldersyde. If either church proposes to occupy hitherto unoccupied territory, both missionary superintendents shall be consulted, and if they fail to agree the matter will be referred to the district joint committee. A splendid spirit of co-operation prevailed in the meeting and both churches are satisfied with the result. The session closed at midnight.

The Choral Society

(Published by request)

Editor of the Times.

Most of your readers will be aware of the existence of the High River Choral Society. If you will kindly allow me to point out a few facts regarding such societies, it may arise further and heightened interest.

There seems to be a very prevalent idea that these societies are established for the exhibition of a limited number of good voices, which shall compete for the most prominent position, taking a first part in the singing therein so noticeably so as to monopolize the attention of the audience.

This notion is essentially wrong for in the first place the choir has no use for the individual voice alone, but for the combination of voices. The singer whose voice will not merge itself with others to form a harmonious whole is out of place and worse than useless because he frustrates the object of the choir, viz., a beautiful whole.

The attainment of this result should be the chief aim of a choral society, and with it in view each member must bear in mind one or two principles:

1. He must endeavor at all times to sink his individuality, and become an ordinary unit, doing his best for the good of the society.

2. He must be willing to comply with the wishes of the leader, both in the performance of the music and in the distribution of parts. There can be nothing more ridiculous than a choir whose members object to have minor parts assigned to them, but who wish to sing first, not having the wit to see how another part may need their help, or how their selfishness may upset arrangements.

He must be prepared to sink all feelings of personal animosity for the time being, and maintain a pleasant good temper throughout, whatever happens. A crowd of sour-tempered, disagreeable people may achieve some acquaintance with the music, and they will never get a perfect blend of voices.

If these three things are adhered to I venture to say that any choral society under competent leadership will not only have success, but will derive much pleasure and profit from the practice. Therefore, going on these lines, I beg to extend an invitation through your columns to any who are willing to join the High River Choral Society, not to exhibit the fine qualities of their voices, nor to sit in amazed wonder at the superiority of another member's voice, but to help us to produce a good harmonious and pleasing result.

A Stavelly Farmer's Wife Ends Her Life by Taking Strychnine

A very sad case of suicide took place on Monday, March 27, when Mrs. G. Partridge, wife of a well-known and respected farmer, living just south-east of Stavelly, ended her life by taking strychnine. She had been to Claresholm, where she had a sister living, with her husband, and it was while they were driving home that she did the rash act. She then told her husband what she had done, and he immediately turned his horse round and galloped them back to Claresholm, but the poor woman died a few minutes after reaching the doctor's office. Inspector Tucker, as coroner, summoned a jury which sat on Tuesday, and after hearing the evidence brought in a verdict that "death was caused by strychnine poisoning administered by her own hand." The funeral was held on Thursday last at the home of her sister, Mrs. Geo. Buckingham. The remains were interred in the Claresholm cemetery. Deceased was 58 years of age.

Fifty Per Cent. More Moisture

The fall of moisture during January and February, this year, was fifty per cent. higher than last year during the same months last year. The official figures for this year and last year and the two previous years are as follows:

Jan. and Feb. 1911	1.33 inches
Jan. and Feb. 1910	.88 inches
Jan. and Feb. 1909	.77 inches
Jan. and Feb. 1908	1.02 inches

This year's fall is also higher than the average fall for the two months for the last nine years, which is 1.26 inches.

Anybody seen a robin yet?

Extensive improvements to the Presbyterian church building have just been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bentley, formerly of this place, but now of Reid Hill, spent a few days in town this past week.

Remember the postponed sale at Ferris' livery barn on Saturday next, at 2 p.m. sharp. See advt.
 in another column.

The business men are all getting in large stocks for the Spring trade. Watch Cayley grow in 1911.

Immediately after the choral concert on March 15th, lunch will be served in the Cayley Presbyterian Hall. Coffee, sandwiches and cake, 10c. Pie extra.

Applications for seed grain will be received up to March 15th.
 Chas. Mair of the immigration department, Lethbridge, has just received notice to that effect.

"The Children and the Church" will be the sermon subject in the Presbyterian Hall on Sunday morning, and in the evening
 "Peter."

Mr. Swank, who recently sold his farm southwest of Cayley, is preparing to leave shortly for British Columbia, where he intends to make his home.

The 10-15 Bible school in the Presbyterian Hall keeps taking shape. There is room for some more in the Adult Bible Class.
 Elisha is the next O. T. character to be studied.

It is looking more like spring every day. Everything is beginning to move—real estate, farm implements, lumber—in our live town.

Keep the Board of Trade alive.
 There will be movements this year which will make it imperative that the business men present a well organized and united front.

Real estate men are now getting busy for their summer's work.
 Some land has already changed hands; besides several enquiries have been made by some intending farmers coming into this district in the spring.

Before leaving Medicine Hat to assume the position of school inspector at High River, C. Sanson was presented with a club bag and address by the High School pupils.

Wake up, everybody, and see if there can't be a few more correspondents from different neighborhoods. We are glad to see Reid Hill is still alive, and will be glad to see news from there every week.

Wm. Frank of Winnipeg, says that farm property in the West will be enhanced to the tune of $1,250,000.00 if the reciprocity with Uncle Sam goes through.
 Hang on to your farm, Mr. Farmer. The price may take a big jump soon.

W. J. Trugellis of Calgary will be in Cayley on Friday, March 17th, to organize a branch of the United Farmers of Alberta. The meeting will be held in the Presbyterian Hall at 1 o'clock sharp.
 All farmers are requested to be present on the afternoon of that day.

On Monday last week a large auction sale was held at the Ross ranch, which is under the management of Mr. Everaman. It was largely attended, and the live stock especially sold well, horses selling as high as $600 a team and mules as high as $640 a team. L. R.
 Caspell of Cayley was auctioneer, and C. C. Chumby, sale clerk.

The Sheffield choir, 225 members, will sail for Canada, March 17th, to visit the leading cities—and Cayley.

Mr. Swan, who until last spring lived east of Cayley, but now a resident of Montana, is in town for a few days on a business trip, to look after his interests here.

Young Lady (coming in with partner from room where progress of what is being played) O, mummy, I've captured the "hooby." Mother—Well, my daughter, come and kiss me, both of you.

At the Ladies' Aid meeting on Saturday it was decided to give a light lunch in the Presbyterian Hall at the close of the Cantata next week, hot coffee, etc. The charges will be light. This should go well before starting out home, especially if you are not alone.

Saturday's "Canada Gazette" contained a despatch from Down-street, stating that it is the wish of His Majesty the King that his birthday should be officially celebrated in the Dominions beyond the Seas on the actual date of the anniversary, June 3.

Engineer Frank Causland, of the C. P. R., has been dismissed as a result of the investigation into the wreck at Macleod Junction last Wednesday. All other members of both train crews were complet-ly exonerated. The evidence at the investigation went to show that Causland used steam until within a car length of side swiping the passenger train.

The arrest of one Hadley on the charge of stealing from the Oxford Hotel, High River, was followed by a preliminary hearing before Magistrates Sheppard and Sobey.
 The evidence given went to substantiate the charge. There was no evidence offered in defence.
 The prisoner elected to be tried by the magistrates, and pleaded guilty. Hadley made restitution in the amount of the money taken and gave security for the amount of certain costs, thus squaring up as far as possible. He will pay the penalty of the crime of theft by serving six months in jail.

Mrs. Glendenning, mother of J.
 M. Glendenning, M.P.P., died at the home of her son in Nanton on Wednesday of last week. The deceased was advanced in years, and had been in failing health for some time. Through her genial nature the deceased had made very many warm friends, who deeply regret her demise. The body was taken to High River, where a short service was held previous to shipment to Woodstock, Ontario, where interment took place. Mr. Glendenning accompanied the body to its last resting place.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey of California, a son eight inches long, weighing two pounds

It Can Now Pass

At a representative meeting of the Grassy Lake Board of Trade last week a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing the reciprocity agreement.

Bachelors, Here's Your Chance
 "Find us good husbands," was the slogan of a party of 50 young women from the old country who have just arrived at Toronto, and are heading for Southern Alberta.

The woman who cannot find millinery to suit her this season will indeed be very difficult to please. Not in many years has it been made possible for women to be so sanely and at the same time so fashionably hatted as at present.
 The styles are medium in all things. Crowns are moderately high, brims are neither too wide nor too narrow, and trimmings are in no wise exaggerated.

To Hiawatha

Lone Peckee, Alta., Mch. 4, 1911.
 My dear "Hiawatha":
 I'm waiting now for you,
 I dream of you from morn till eve,
 And weigh this prospect new.
 I know you'd be a hunter brave,
 And rove these wilds with me,
 And make our home in rocky cave, Like fairy land 'twill be.
 We'll angle in the mountain streams,
 Live near to nature's heart;
 So very happy we shall be,
 We'll never want to part.
 Indeed it is a lovely sight
 To view the silvery streaks, More interesting, though, it is To watch the prairie freaks.
 Some day you'll say farewell to that Sweet Valley home, you see,
 For you are going to avenge Both north and south with me.
 While creatures of the forest wilds
 Will sing a round-a-lay.
 And you can sit at tranquil eve,
 And smoke the pipe of peace,
 For all your troubles in this world,
 Will at that moment cease.

All bordered 'round with flowers wild, We'll find a grassy lake,
 Where orchids grow, of rarest kind,
 Both mountain fern and brake.
 Then we can float our bark canoe,
 And dream the hours away,
 While creatures of the forest wilds
 Will sing a round-a-lay.
 And you can sit at tranquil eve,
 And smoke the pipe of peace,
 For all your troubles in this world,
 Will at that moment cease.

For you will have a loving wife
 To sit at your right hand,
 And you will humbly bend the knee
 At the august command.
 Then we will thank the Hustler man,
 For he has been so kind,
 We'll hope subscribers all will pay
 And never fall behind.

Some Old Pies
 Jos. G. Robbin, former president of the Washington Savings Bank, the failure of which caused the Northern Bank and the Carnegie Trust Co. to close, was placed on trial yesterday for stealing. His counsel declares that Robbin is insane.

The heaviest and deepest snowstorm of this winter visited Cayley on Friday, Feb. 24, which has greatly gladdened the farmers' heart over 100 per cent. more than before. The snow seems to have been general all over this part of Southern Alberta. If nothing unforeseen occurs during the next few weeks, and given the usual spring rains, Southern Alberta will experience one of the heaviest harvests ever known, is the prediction of the very "oldest inhabitant," Cayley being in the centre of the great wheat belt will be IT!
